Deaf Humor of the Week:

You turn around at exactly the right moment when someone calls you. That person may then scratch his head and wonder if you are really deaf. He may never know that you often look around just to make sure that no one wants you and that all is right with the world.

Thanks to all the faculty, staff and students who made Black Awareness Week a great success. The week was full of exciting activities and revelations. Let's continue to foster mutual understanding and respect. In the words of a traditional African-American saying, "The tree of love gives shade to all."
